We are very pleased to introduce the proceedings of the *International Conference on The Contribution of Engineering, Sciences and Humanities for the Development of the Society (ESH-18).*As for previous conferences, the theme was the link between the information provided by conference world and the use made of this information in assessing structural integrity. These were the issues addressed by the papers presented at the conference. The level of interest in the subject matter of the conference was maintained from previous events and over 30 suitable papers were submitted for presentation at the conference.

Papers were well represented in the conference to arouse a high level of international interest. Three countries were represented in the final program from Europe, North America and Asia. In the event, the conference was highly successful. The presented papers maintained the high promise suggested by the written abstracts and the program was chaired in a professional and efficient way by the session chairmen who were selected for their international standing in the subject. The number of delegates was also highly gratifying, showing the high level of international interest in the subject. This is also indicated by the large number of countries, 17 represented by the delegates. This Proceeding provides the permanent record of what was presented. They indicate the state of development at the time of writing of all aspects of this important topic and will be invaluable to all workers in the field for that reason. Finally, it is appropriate that we record our thanks to our fellow members of the Technical Organizing Committee for encouraging participation from those areas. We are also indebted to those who served as chairmen, without their support, the conference could not have been the success that it was. We also acknowledge the authors themselves, without whose expert input there would have been no conference. Their efforts made a great contribution to its success.
