1. INTRODUCTION

Tourism is a collection of activities, services and industries that delivers a travel experience, including transportation, accommodations, eating and drinking establishments, retail shops, entertainment businesses, activity facilities and other hospitality services provided for individuals or groups traveling away from home. The World Tourism Organization (WTO) claims that tourism is currently the world's largest industry with annual revenues of over $3 trillion dollars. Tourism provides over six million jobs in the United States, making it the country's largest employer.

Infact, since the beginning of time humans have traveled. Food, water, safety or acquisition of resources (trade) was the early travel motivations. But the idea of travel for pleasure or exploration soon emerged. Travel has always depended upon technology to provide the means or mode of travel. The earliest travelers walked or rode domesticated animals. The invention of the wheel and the sail provided new modes of transportation. Each improvement in technology increased individuals' opportunities to travel. As roads were improved and governments stabilized, interest in travel increased for education, sightseeing, and religious purposes. One of the earliest travel guides was written by Pausanias, a Greek, which was a 10 volume Guide to Greece, for Roman tourists in 170 A.D.

In this respect, this work aims to prepare a plan for Madurai that can be used for tourism development in the next ten years.

1.2. Need for study

According to Mr.G.Vasudevan the former president of travel club to an interview in the The Hindu in the 2007 said that, the two stake holders of the Tourism Industry, are the Travel and the Hotel sectors, They usually receives a good business from the October to the Month of March. In case of the proposed Information Technology, Tidel, and Software parks steps into Madurai, the travel and the hotel sectors will be receiving good business throughout the year which can be forecasted with an increase of 15% - 50% on their business.

The hotel sector will need at least another 200 rooms in the three star categories to meet the demand of new customers. Especially during the peak season as catering both to IT segment and tourists with the existing rooms will be a little difficult. In 2004, nearly 33 lakh tourists visited the city. It dipped to 27.9 lakh in 2005. But last year we had good tourist arrivals, touching approximately 45 lakh."

The travel sectors, Travel agencies and tour operators are expected to pump in an investment of Rs.5 crore to Rs.10 crore to augment their facilities. The industry is also working out plans for corporate tie-ups for weekend getaways and daily trips.

Air connectivity is already at its record best with 10 domestic flights a day and one more to join the bandwagon soon. He also felt that It will be a great advantage if flights connecting international airports like Colombo, Singapore and Malaysia come to Madurai,"

Hence, the immediate need is a master plan for infrastructure development, focusing on the next 10 to 15 years, taking into account the expected growth of population in the city. There is also a dire need for a permanent convention centre.

If tourism flourishes, every business, including those thriving in the hinterland, will stand to gain in a big way. For an example every taxi operator is expected to grow by at least 50 per cent from the present level,"

1.3. Scope of Work

Madurai District Tourism master Plan has been prepared for the perspective of 10 years as the prospect year is 2023 AD. The Tourism Plan has been prepared as per the scope of work.

Pilgrimage resources

Heritage and other socio-cultural assets

Service and infrastructure already available.

2. Objectives of the Work

4. ANALYSIS OF THE PLAN

Due to chronological limitation, the researcher has depended on both secondary as well as primary sources of data/ information for carrying out the study. The line departments as well as the various support infrastructure departments at state level were visited and available literature, printed or otherwise, collected.

An effort was made by the researcher to interact with the concerned district level-, and city level officials, rather than just collection of printed information etc. In this way, the researcher have come to know more about the tourist scenarios, bottlenecks, potentials etc. Focused Discussions with officials were thus conducted.

A good number of market studies/ primary surveys of various types and at different levels were undertaken in order to ascertain the overall (domestic as well as foreign) tourists' opinion, hoteliers' response, tour guides and tour operators, i.e. the people who are directly and/ or indirectly related to tourism industry. Separate sets of questionnaires were designed for each such market/ primary survey.

Notes:

1. Tourist projections in Columns 2 and 3 in Table 6.3 are based on the assumptions given in Section 10.1.2.
2. Additional tourist inflow is the difference between tourist inflow, from the existing facilities and tourist inflow after the implementation of the tourism plan 2003 onwards.
3. Direct receipts shown in Column 5 is the direct expenditure of the additional tourist inflow by applying average stay in terms of number of days
4. All numbers in the table are in hundreds; All Rs are in lakh.

Indirect Benefits

The indirect benefits arise out of the multiplier effect of tourists' spending in the state as the different segments of the tourist industry are to purchase various commodities and services from other sectors of the economy to meet the demand of the tourists. The additional output produced in other sectors of the economy by the chain of inter industry spending, initiated by the expenditure of the tourism industry for its inputs is the indirect output of tourism. The direct receipts are multiplied by appropriate output multipliers and the value added is multiplied by appropriate income multipliers to arrive at the indirect benefits of the proposed investment. The indirect benefits of the perspective tourism plan have been computed in Table 6.4 by adopting the output multiplier as 1.058 and income multiplier as 1.412 on the basis of the study by Dr. G.Raveendran on Tourism, Planning and Measurement Methods, 1993

Table 5.2 Indirect Benefits from Additional Tourist Arrivals

Year	Direct Receipts	Direct Value Added	Output Col 2 x (Factor 1.058)	Value Added Col. 3 x (Factor 1.412)	Total of Column (4) & (5)

6. FINDINGS AND SUGGESTIONS

- Since the rate of reappearing tourists is very low efforts to be taken to attract more reappearing tourists
- Since Madurai is the cultural capital the cultural significance should be explored and highlighted properly
- It is found that more than 50% of the tourist are staying two days and more in Madurai so like regular sightseeing to the Meenakshi temple and Mahal will only take hardly half a day so the heritage walk, Jain circuit and the cultural event can be organized and explored among these tourist to utilize their stay at Madurai.
- Since more than 50% of the tourists are interested in South Indian food, Ethnic South Indian food festival can be organized in the weekends and even Food Tourism can be promoted in Madurai.
- Since cultural event is desired by the tourists and Madurai being the cultural capital cultural events like folk dances, songs, poppet shows, dummy horse dance can be organized. even adventure sports is desired cock fight, goat fight, silambam can be organized. Even all the above said can be organized under one roof to form a cultural park (theme park) at the cultural capital.
- It is observed that the accessibility of the heritage sites in Madurai is quite difficult.
- It is observed that no educational institutions are provided with the awareness on the heritage resources of Madurai.

- Madurai is a land of cultural performers; the variety of cultural talents has not been utilized for the purpose of tourism.
- Madurai is a land of taste. This has to be used for the promotion of tourism.
- The heritage games are not much popular among the tourists

Recommendations

Major plans, action and strategies proposed so far can be compiled and summarised as the following recommendations:

- Tourism Department should act as a nodal agency for co-ordinating with various other State and Central departments in order to promote the state and to provide better infrastructure.
- Creation of a nodal agency for development of Tourism in the State, viz. Tourism Development and Co-ordination Committee (TDCC) to ensure co-ordinated efforts towards attainment of unified goal of Integrated Tourism Development in the State
- A single window clearance of tourism projects with a transparent process should be evolved.
- The tourism heads at the district level should be at helm of affairs in their location. The role of the District Collector needs to be re-examined.
- More budgetary support to the department should be provided by the state government
- Additional assistance from Central Government should be sought for developing mega tourism projects envisaged for the state
- Awareness should be created among the locals on the earning potential/employment opportunity on account of tourism, thereby changing the closed and conservative mindset of the people
- The role of private entrepreneurs in Tourism promotion and in implementing projects should be recognised and a Public-Private Tourism model be evolved.
- The Government should focus its efforts in promotion of the State abroad and in other States and act as a facilitator by limiting itself to providing infrastructure support.

7. CONCLUSION

The aim of devising development strategy is to develop and sustain Madurai as a major tourist destination. To make this happen, it is essential not only to identify strategic factors imparting competitive advantage and build appropriate strategies for attaining the desired goals/ targets envisioned, but also co-ordination amongst various related departments and stakeholders. A mix of appropriate tools along with focused approaches, taking into consideration various factors affecting this industry would definitely go a long way in making Madurai a sought after global tourist destinations in the coming years.
